Group Is Organized At J'town To Fight Taylorsville Road Rezoning

Preliminary plans for organization of the Taylorsville Road Improvement Association were discussed Tuesday night at a meeting of Jeffersontown businessmen and Taylorsville Road property owners at the Jefferson Hotel.

Between 25 and 30 persons attended the session. A. B. Wigington, Taylorsville Road, who operates a real estate office at Hikes Point, presided.

The group's association will be to fight the rezoning of a section of Taylorsville Road near Hurstbourne Lane for commercial purposes. William M. Harvin, Sterling Road, has been retained as attorney.

Those attending the Tuesday night session voted to file suit in an effort to overrule an October 18 decision of the Circuit Court of Jefferson County.

Harrison said Wednesday that he had applied to a transcript of proceedings in the Bickel case and that the protesting group has until November 18 to file the necessary court action.

In connection with the rezoning proposal of the Murrell tract across Taylorsville Road from the Bickel property, Harvin said court litigation has been dismissed and the protest is to be brought up again at a subsequent meeting of the zoning commission.

Several months ago, the commission refused to rezone the 11-acre tract of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Murrell and they took the case to Circuit Court. The case was pending while the proposed rezoning of the Bickel property. At the same time, members said they then approved rezoning the Murrell tract, which had up further action until the Circuit Court action was settled.

Reid Martin and Ralph Quinn, property owners of the Taylorsville Road near Hurstbourne Lane and many others who would be plaintiffs in the proposed action growing out of the Tuesday night meeting, The Martin and Quinn families are from the Taylorsville Road from the Bickel tract and across Hurstbourne Lane from the Murrell property.

A great deal of shopping center land needed to establish a establishment of a commercial zone will reduce values of Taylorsville Road property. Another meeting to discuss the matter further was scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Thursday, November 1, at the Fire House.

J-TOWN ROTARY

Owner Hammer, a resident of the CLO local at the Ford Motor Company, was the speaker at Thursday night's meeting of the Rotary Club of Jeffersontown in the Methodist Church.

Court Denies Request To Cancel Plans For Widening County Road

A request that plans to widen Whipple Mill Road between U.S. 60 and LaGrange Road to 60 feet be cancelled was turned down Wednesday by Jefferson Fiscal Court.

The request came in form of a letter from Herbert C. Howard, attorney representing 25 property owners along the road who complained. It stated that the proposed widening would make the stretch a thoroughfare and therefore dangerous to drivers.

Circuit Judge Bertason C. Van Arsdale said rights-of-way are being acquired and it was too late to change plans. The state intends to relocate and improve the road, however, Howard suggested that LaGrange Road which leaves U.S. 60 about a mile west of the Whipple Mill junction with Highway 125 be relocated and widened instead.

Fiscal Court members subdivided on the growth of subdivisions to be served by the widened road. The new plan will be used as need of school buildings make the project necessary.

The Rev. Mr. Irvin and members of his family moved into the new parsonage next door during early stages of the rezoning operation.

Contracts totaling $192,000 for the new church have been awarded and construction is expected to start immediately.

Ground To Be Broken Sunday Afternoon For New Lutheran Church

Ground breaking ceremonies for the new Lutheran Church will be held at 4 p.m. Sunday, November 4, with the current and two former pastors and officials of the Kentucky-Tennessee Synod participating.

Expected to be present are Dr. G. D. Bush, president of the Synod; the Rev. Tilmann Williams, of Trinity Lutheran Church, secretary of the Rev. Dr. James R. Harrison, Helms Kyr, and the Rev. John E. Evans, of the First Lutheran Church, former pastor, the Rev. Charles L. Irwin, pastor, said.

The new church will be on the site of the old parsonage on Taylorsville Road and Six Mile Lane. Rezoning operations were begun Tuesday and are expected to be completed in time for the ground breaking ceremonies.

The Rev. Mr. Irvin and members of his family moved into the new parsonage next door during early stages of the rezoning operation.

It was reported that the Lyon-Merchants Association has joined the fight to cancel the proposed road. The new plan will be presented at the next county People's Day session November 13.

John E. Stout, attorney for the association, claims the proposed road "will have no stone unturning in fighting the proposal." The merchants claim widening of Whipple Mill Road will cost consumers considerable consumer trade. Their protests have been forwarded to Gov. A. B. Chiles.

In another matter, the court voted to share the cost with Bell County in constructing a new bridge over Pond Creek at Katherinesville.

The bridge was condemned by the state five years ago, but is still being used. County Road Engineer W. Price Lane said a limit of $15,000 as the county's share of the cost was specified.

It is the opinion of the Optimist Club that the new bridge will be built back with good stones trying to take home the award for the second year.

Mrs. Wetherell will represent Homemakers At Meeting On Ceylon

A sixth grade teacher at Melbourn Heights School, Mrs. C. M. Wetherell, Hickory Lane, will leave from New York next Friday by plane for Columbus, Ohio, as representative of the Associated Women of the World December 5-15.

Mrs. Wetherell, a teacher at Melbourn Heights School 13 years, will make the trip as a "visiting delegate" from High View Homemakers. The designation means that she will be free to meet with other groups as she chooses. Official delegates are required to attend all meetings.

More than 500 women from 21 countries are expected to attend the conference.

Mrs. Wetherell said she isn't particularly excited about the trip because "after all I went to Tonawanda in 1954."

"I would probably be excited," she said.

She plans to take colored slides of her Ceylon hobby she acquired on the Copenhagen trip. Other hobbies of raising pennants and cooking "will have to wait" until she returns.

Rodger Dalton Makes College Football Squad

New Haven, Conn. - Rodger Dalton, Jeffersonville High School football player of the Princeton College football team, will be a member of the Princeton squad. Princeton is the top-ranked college football team in the country.

The bridge was condemned by the state five years ago, but is still being used. County Road Engineer W. Price Lane said a limit of $15,000 as the county's share of the cost was specified.

It is the opinion of the Optimist Club that the new bridge will be built back with good stones trying to take home the award for the second year.

A stronger would have to take a second look before he would consider it an insult that he is entering a doctor's office, the modernistic appearance being so much in contrast to the old order of such things.

Dr. R. E. Riehl, who has office in the city a short time ago from the Dieruf Building where he had been attending the clinic, is expected to return to his duties as maintenance supervisor of the Jefferson County Water & Sewerage Commission past week.

Mr. Charles Ball, life insurance underwriter, is attending an inter-college competition in working space and office for the receptionist, Mrs. Marjorie Zulaf, 3508 Dell Road, an X-ray room, two adult treatment rooms, a children's room, a waiting room and private office. Automatic controls keep the temperature at a specified temperature.

Suffering for Us

Lesson for November 4, 1956

IN THESE days when a running man could overtake a carriage that was in a hurry, a Christian man named Philip used to run up close to a very handsome carriage—they called it a chariot—in which sat a man reading aloud to himself something about the way he was reading. This man was Philip, now jogging along beside the carriage, asking the man a question. For the man was reading aloud from a book which no one else had ever owned by every reader of this column in this book. Dr. Foreman, to whom to buy it were all others, every month of every year: the Bible. Philip didn't ask the man where he got the book, or what kind of it, much, or what the book was like. He asked, "Do you understand what you are reading?" The distinguished stranger admitted he did. But he was even more interested in inviting this unknown pedestrian to ride with him. He was reading a chapter from Isaiah, the very same chapter in which he had written this week. It is all about "my servant," that is, God's servant. But who is the servant? The prophet himself or somebody else? Could Philip please explain?

A Prophet Once Said:

The book is 25 centuries old, the story of Philip about 19 centuries ago; but that chapter is still a favorite with Christians. The Church told the world essentially the same answer Philip gave: that is, a prophecy about Jesus. Even those Christians who doubt whether the prophet originally set out to describe him as God's servant nevertheless agree that the picture fits Jesus remarkably well. Most of the Christian church says not only that Jesus is the servant, but also the description does fit remarkably well. It is a fair question: Would the first Christians, such as Philip, have thought this to be a prophecy of Christ if Jesus had never suffered? And would they have said to say that Jesus was less bright than his followers? The beauty and power of this great statement from the prophet comes from accuracy in details; it is pretty difficult to make all the details match exactly the facts of Jesus' life. Nevertheless, this is more than beautiful in language and thought; it is powerful in giving us, in a few sentences, the central spirit underlying the whole of Jesus' life. It is this: What he endured and suffered, in life and in death, he suffered and endured not for himself alone but for others, for us.

Levels of Suffering

Suffering can be undergone on different levels, as it were. At lowest level there is mere pain, the kind known by animals, the beast does not think about it, animals around him do not; he simply suffers. At next level there is pain suffered and resisted; man may say, "I can stand this pain which is suffered bravely, even defiantly, by a stoic ("I am the captain of my soul!"). Above this again is pain suffered and resisted, but not because it is necessary, but because God wills it. On a still higher level is suffering which is offered to God as sacrifice, the sufferer may have to give. As high as this, if not higher, is suffering which is undertaken for the sake of others, as in helping the child. The suffering of Christ, the church believes, is on a plane even higher than all these, though it is like some that have been mentioned. For its sufferings were for men and women everywhere, always.

"He Poured Out His Soul"

The traditional scene taken as having tragically moved, is saddening. "To what purpose was all this waste?"—we ask Judas' old question. As the alabaster box pours forth its perfume, we remember that this was not only a man but God, undergoing this tragic dark scene shot with "lightning of his pain"; we can understand better the desire to climax for the opaqueness of our selfish minds) what the suffering of Jesus meant and means. It was for us; he bore our sins; he suffered for us; he made himself an offering for sin. You remember the girl who said to her older sister: "Oh, sometimes I want to take all the miseries of the world and put them on my shoulder!"

And the older sister said: " Didn't you know Jesus did that, long ago?"

COMMUNITIES URGED TO OBSERVE EDUCATION WEEK

FULL observance of American Education Week by all communities in Kentucky was urged this week by J. M. Dodson, executive secretary of the Kentucky Education Association. The purpose of this 36th annual observance, scheduled for November 11 to 17, is to bring the needs and achievements of the schools before the public and to spotlight the important role education plays in our democracy.

"During American Education Week," said Dodson, "the schools of our state extend a special invitation to the public to visit classrooms, to see the goods in action. Wishing for good schools is not enough. Communities have good schools when the people want them enough to work for them, to cooperate with them."

Area Woman's Clubs
Sponsors Art Contest

The Kentucky Federated Women's Clubs of the Third District urges its member clubs to enter their original paintings and objects of art in a contest at the district meeting November 7 in Room 412 Kentucky Hotel.

There will be four classifications including oil (laquer), water color (decoupage, opaque and transparent), line drawings and black and white, and prints and small articles of original design (cloth, pottery, wood, metal, etc.).

Exhibitors must be members of the local District or State Women's Clubs and entries must be new and not have been shown in previous district or federated convention exhibits.

First, second and third place ribbons and $3 stipend awards will be given. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Shannon Stone, art chairman of the Younger Woman's Club of Louisville, or Mrs. Charles Lovett, art chairman of the Woman's Club of Jeffersontown. Their telephone numbers are 5-2141 and 5092, respectively.

The district meeting opens with registration at 9:30 a.m. deadline for reservations is noon. Monday, November 5. Mrs. William C. Cruse, president of the Kentucky Federation, will be the speaker.

UPSET MINDED HEREFORD
SHOW SET AT U.K.

The Bluegrass of Merit show is scheduled for Nov. 18-19 at the University of Kentucky in Lexington—and no more upset-minded cattle show ever was organized.

This show is strictly "big business." In 1955, edition 1, a bull priced at $10,000 was sold.

The year previous, the grand champion bull from the American Royal at Kansas City — one of the top national shows — was sold for $10,000.

Upset stud, the Lexington Similes, upset stud, the history of the show. Of interest to Kentuckians is the fact that this is the only top flight Hereford show in the country.

Members of the Melbourne Heights Homemakers Club will meet at 9:30 a.m. Thursday, November 2, at the home of Mrs. Glenn Kestler, 4003 Midland Avenue.

The lesson on "Christmas Ideas" is to be given by Mrs. E. B. Butler and the refreshments served.

President Eisenhower's firm and positive leadership and his great qualities of character and determination, made it possible for his Republican administration to end three long years of bitter warfare in Korea.

Thousands and thousands of Americans, as well as our Allies all over the free world, have more confidence in President Eisenhower than in any living American.

Kentuckians know that PEACE WITH HONOR, and PEACE WITH PROSPERITY have been among the high achievements of the Eisenhower Administration.

OUR President's great prestige and matchless leadership are now directed toward continuing the peace and making it more secure. For this important effort President Eisenhower is the best qualified American we can choose for President of the United States for the next four years.

All of us of the Kentucky boys who didn't have to fight on foreign soil because the Eisenhower Team has steered the United States so wisely since 1952! BUY-NOTES on FOOD

From Extension Service, Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics

Many homemakers are asking if beef scarce? Why is it so high? Actually there is no scarcity of beef, but of the top grades is not plentiful. Most of the beef now comes from cattle which have fed on grain fed beef.

Many retailers refuse to provide more than the present cost choice and good grade when come to buying meat. Cattle for the simple reason that they well realize that there is a great misunderstanding about proper meat cooking. They are reluctant to prove that grass fed cattle do their customers.

Why this reluctance on the part of the retailer? Certainly this so termed "scarce" beef is "economy beef," not "beef" or "lousy beef." In a good way. Most markets which handle this grade or type of beef clearly state that they are providing it for an customer and at lower retail prices than for the same cuts of top grades. This beef is equally as nutritious as the top grades. There is less waste in the form of bone and particularly fat.

CHANGES IN YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY

Farm workers are partially covered under social security with the 1950 amendments. Eligibility, however, was restricted to those workers who met rather strict and complicated requirements of work tests. The 1954 amendment

This year's further change has been made in the coverage test for farm employees. Under an the answer lies in the food shopper herself. Without the knowledge that this beef must be prepared by moist heat cooking — that means the lid on and it is never too appetizing. But with this proper cooking, on the other hand, full rich flavor can be developed.

Most homemakers will be very disappointed if they attempt to prepare any of these cuts with broiling and roasting (dry heat methods).

In markets where you find this beef, it represents a very good buy, provided that the shopper understands its value. With come to buying meat. 4-H Achievements To Be Recognized Attention will be directed to the activities and accomplishments of 4-H clubs Saturday, November 11, which has been designated as National 4-H Achievement Day.

In Kentucky, approximately 67,702 members were enrolled in 102,671 projects, three-fourth of which were carried through to completion, said Boyd E. Wheeler, area director of the 4-H club work. Here are 10 of the most popular projects in which homemaking and farming skills were learned, with the products being sold.

Beech cattle, 2,659; forestry, 851; fruits, 1,160; poultry, 2,676; swine, 3,625; tobacco, 5,024; vegetable growing, 4,684; canning and preserving foods, 3,719; clothing, 24,312; food marketing, 1,000; food selection, 11,793.

In addition to individual projects, club members engaged in registered planned projects programs. About 1,600 club members attended one of the 28 4-H camp programs the past summer and 1,200 boys and girls attended 4-H Club week at the University of Kentucky.

At the Kentucky State Fair, 4-H'ers had approximately 3,500 farms and home economics entries, 47 counties had 4-H exhibits, 14 teams, 28 counties, animal judging teams, and 20 poultry teams. Thirty teams participated in the national meeting of the American 4-H Club Congress at North Carolina State College, and 24 members, the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

4-H'ers also took part in national contests in poultry, meat animal and dairying.

Soil Bank Payments Hit $4,180,917 Total

Roy C. Gray, chairman of the Kentucky State A.S.C. Committee, said the Lexington area weekly 14,361 Kentucky farmers have been paid a total of $4,180,917.51 in 1956 Accrual Reserve Soil Bank payments.

Gray went on to say that he was very much pleased with the amount of payments which Kentucky farmers are receiving under the soil bank program. The Soil Bank Program since the program was approved two years ago in the planting season for Kentucky farmers to respel the full benefit of the program and the participation of all Kentucky farmers will participate in the 1957 program which would be a great help to the farmers in this state.

4-H Leaders Attend State-Wide Workshop

A review and evaluation of 4-H work in Kentucky, with recommendations to date plane to future plans and programs, were subjects for discussion at an all-day workshop at the Marion County Civic Center according to Boyd E. Wheeler, acting state leader of 4-H club work at the University of Kentucky.

Out-of-state visitor at the conference was Lloyd Rutledge, associate leader of 4-H Club and Young Men's and Women's Progressive Association.

Among the 42 persons attending were members of the state 4-H and extension supervisory staff, and representatives of county and home agents, the State 4-H Council and volunteer leaders.

Mrs. Martha Owens, assistant home demonstration agent in Jefferson County, was among those present.

The challenging task of raking fallen leaves, this story might present a peculiar fact of nature appreciation. The many trees, about the school, have shed a multitude of brown leaves on several isolated sections of the school grounds. The main playing areas, however, have remained clean. It was amazing last fall to see dozens of elementary school children abandoning the paved playing areas to literally hurl themselves into the remote mounds of leaves. They rolled around in them, then crawled over them and even stuffed them into their pockets. When asked why all the excitement over leaves, one little lady summed it up this way, "There's none in our subdivision!" — Continued on page 11.

The dogs eating the meat meat is the most nutritious food a dog can eat. After the dogs had been on feed six weeks, the three dogs were much more active. One of the dogs did not eat raw meat developed serious leg trouble, with enlarged joints in both front legs and the right hind leg. The dog could hardly walk, and he had to be taken off the test. Both the other dogs on raw meat developed similar symptoms.

PEACE

All Kentuckians share our country's desire for peace. But veterans—having fought to end wars—have a special appreciation of war's awfulness. In John Sherman COOPER, they have a fellow veteran, one who fought to win World War II with Gen. Patton's Third Army Europe, and one who, since then, has fought to keep and strengthen the peace as a diplomat in the United Nations, as Ambassador to India, and as a United States Senator. COOPER knows war and he knows the work of peace. He will work for you—for peace—in the United States Senate. You can depend on COOPER.

Relationship Between Parents And Teachers. — Dr. Joe F. Wilkes, professor of education at the University of Louisville, is an active member of the P.T.A. acted as moderator. The panel consisted of three teachers, Hugh Cassell, Eastern Junior High; Mrs. Mary Collins, Fern Creek; and Mrs. Pauline Greenwood School, and three parents, Mrs. Oscar Bloch, Goldsmith Lane P.T.A.; Mrs. W. H. Wieland, Junior High; and Mr. W. L. Walker, Jr., Fern Creek High P.T.A.

The summary of the panel discussion was that teachers expected children to be well disciplined at home and to have respect for teachers and to learn to settle down to hard work. Teachers expect punctuality, cooperation, and would like confirmation from parents only after they had done all they could with the child.

Parents expected teachers to give them a chance when necessary, to be well groomed themselves to set a good example in the classroom, to be fair with a sense of humor, to speak English and not to give too much homework. After each panelist there were interesting questions asked by the audience and answered by the panel. — Betty Lee Nagel, Jefferson County Council P.T.A., publicity chairman.

Friday, October 26, the band took part in the annual tobacco festival at Bloomfield. After performing in the parades through Bloomfield, they participated in a mass band program with Bloomfield, Oldham County, and Old Kentucky Home's bands. This program was held in the tobacco warehouse. After the twirling contest was over, the band and Mary Jane Fields, Fern Creek, was awarded first place in this division.

A plaque was awarded to the band for participating in this festival.

Fern Creek with eight other high school teams met in a running cross country track meet, Wednesday, October 24. For the first time this year Fern Creek dropped to second place and Southern third out of the nine teams participating. Eddie Cleary was Fern Creek's leading runner.

In preparation for the Fern Creek-Southern game a bonfire pep rally was held Thursday night, October 25, on the baseball field.

During this occurrence, the cheerleaders cremated a dummy representing the Southern Trojans. After the "cremation," the cheerleaders led the largest crowd ever seen to the football field for cheering.

Mr. Nixon then made a short speech concerning the students for the large crowd.

The following day, Fern Creek met Southern on the gridiron. Bob Durham made the touchdown that Fern Creek received during the whole game. It was a 25-yard pass thrown by David Harrod.

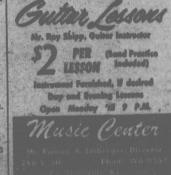

During the half time period Fern Creek's band and drill corps put on a fine performance with Southern's band.

The final score of the game was 20 to 6 Southern's favor.

We had quite a good number out for Sunday School and church services last Sunday. Brother Schreiner brought us a good sermon on "The Love of Love." That is the one thing we must have. We can visit give everything we have if we haven't love in our hearts, it profits nothing in the sight of the Lord.

Brother and Sister Brown Missionaries from Africa, were with us Sunday. They spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Hare, our pastor.

Our church had a Hallowe'en party Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mason. There were 60 in attendance. All had a great time. Mrs. Budde Wright was in charge.

A formal discussion has been arranged between Bro. Robert C. Welch, preacher of the Wendell Christian Church and Christ and E. Scott, pastor of the View Church of Christ. Bro. Welch and Bro. Schreiner have both expressed the hope and prayer, that this study will serve toward Education and identification in church.

Our Ladies Bible Class didn't have a study period Thursday evening, as we went to the Jeffersontown Church of Christ.

Each Tuesday night, all young people in the church at 7 p.m. go to visit the sick and share their love with them.

This is greatly appreciated and the Lord gets the glory. There were 15 who went out last Tuesday.

Our Bible School ladies met at Sister Baker's Wednesday, Oct. 24, on Bardstown Road to sew and do different things that were requested.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Schreiner and 5-week-old son who live in Winchester, come down to Louisville every week-end as Gene preaches at the Round Street Church of Christ. They went to the Fairmont Inn and were met by their son, Billy Graham and left with Grandpa and Grandma Schreiner. Some of our grandmothers and wives visit the old folks home everyday. Saturday afternoon, has services, communion singing and prayers with the folks there. We took the little grandson along and he didn't mind sitting in the lap of his mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Reader and daughter, Glenn, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Shaw were entertained by Sister and Brother Broderick at the Beulah Church of Christ Sunday evening to a supper.

Mrs. Budde Clark's mother, Mrs. Herman Fox, is in a serious condition and we pray and hope the Lord will see fit to restore her back to health soon.

Well, Mrs. Charlie Schlaeter, Belvoir Church was on our first flying team last weekend. Her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Foster, Lyndon, took her to Elizabeth, Tenn., to visit her sister and other relatives while she was on a wonderful trip. The roads and scenery were beautiful, she said.

I just received word that Mr. Franklin Stout, Seaside Road passed away last night in the early morning. The family have our deepest sympathy. He suffered long and now the Lord has taken him home.

The following day, Fern Creek met Southern on the gridiron.

Bob Durham made the touchdown that Fern Creek received during the whole game. It was a 25-yard pass thrown by David Harrod.

During the half time period Fern Creek's band and drill corps put on a fine performance with Southern's band.

The final score of the game was 20 to 6 Southern's favor.
